1.0 Introductory Statement

This Religious Education Policy has been developed by the Board of Management, Principal, staff and wider school community of St. Paul's National School in accordance with the Catholic Preschool and Primary Religious Education Curriculum for Ireland, the characteristic spirit of our school and the patronage of the Diocese of Limerick.

This policy reflects the central role of Religious Education, Catholic ethos, wellbeing, inclusion and faith formation in the life of our school community. It also recognises the increasingly diverse and multicultural nature of our school and wider society.

The Aim of Religious Education in A Catholic School

The aim of Religious Education is to help children mature in relation to their spiritual, moral and religious lives, through their encounter with, exploration and celebration of their Catholic faith.

The Vision for Religious Education In A Catholic Schools

In the Irish context the educational vision of the Church is a pastoral one. It acknowledges the complementary, connected, but different roles of the home, school and parish community in the faith education of children.

In this vision parents are the first and the primary teachers of their children in faith and the home is the first school of faith.

The parish is where children learn to worship, where they meet Jesus Christ in sacramental celebrations and where they experience and share in the mission of the Church.

Religious education in the Catholic primary school has two distinct but complementary dimensions, the educational dimension and the faith formation dimension.

- The educational dimension is centred and founded on the formal curriculum and focuses on the values and teachings of the Catholic Church. It teaches children the skills of spiritual, moral and religious literacy. The Religious Education outcomes at each level in the curriculum reflect this dimension.
- The faith formation dimension forms the children's characters in the virtues and values of Jesus, supports their faith development and helps them to experience what it means to be a member of the Church. The faith formation goals in the curriculum (pp 134-143) support and reflect this dimension.

An important part of this vision is our response to religious and cultural change in our society. Catholic schools are places where all are respected and valued. This includes the many different levels of faith that we will encounter in both our teachers and pupils and those pupils who are of other faiths and different stances for living.

Aim of Religious Education Policy

The purpose of this religious education policy is

- To ensure that we strive to understand and promote religious education in a Catholic primary school as never simply one subject among many, but the foundation of the entire educational process.

- To ensure that formal teaching in matters of belief, values and practice that equip children for a free and intelligent expression of personal faith within the family, Church and wider society is provided. (based on Share the Good News 39)
- To appreciate the richness of all religious traditions, especially those present in our school community, and to provide a framework to encounter these traditions.
- To provide appropriate religious education for the different levels of faith commitment that we encounter in our classrooms
- To lead to a greater degree of clarity in respect of aims, procedures and roles for RE in the school.
- To assist all members of staff in the teaching of Religion.
- To consider strategies that respond to the needs of children of different faiths and other stances for living in terms of religious education.

2.0 School Information

St. Paul's National School is a co-educational Catholic primary school under the patronage of the Diocese of Limerick.

We are proud of our identity as a Catholic school, where faith, learning, wellbeing, inclusion and care for others are central to daily school life. Our Catholic ethos informs the relationships, values, decision-making and culture of the school and underpins our commitment to the holistic development of every child.

At the same time, we warmly welcome children and families of all faith traditions and none. We recognise that the diversity within our school community enriches the experiences and understanding of all pupils. Every child is valued, respected and included within our school community.

3.0 Vision and Ethos

In St. Paul's N.S., we believe that Catholic education is concerned not only with academic development, but with the formation of the whole child — spiritually, morally, emotionally, socially and intellectually.

Our Catholic ethos is reflected through:

- Prayer and liturgical celebration
- Gospel values and Christian witness
- Respect for the dignity of every person
- Promotion of kindness, empathy, justice and forgiveness
- A strong sense of community, inclusion and belonging
- Service to others and social justice initiatives

We strive to create a school environment where children experience care, encouragement, safety and acceptance, and where all members of the school community are encouraged to develop virtues such as compassion, honesty, resilience, generosity and respect.

4.0 Catholic Ethos, Wellbeing and Inclusion

St. Paul's N.S. recognises the close relationship between wellbeing and Catholic education. Our Catholic ethos contributes positively to the wellbeing of pupils and staff by fostering:

- A strong sense of belonging and community

- Positive and respectful relationships
- Opportunities for reflection, prayer and calm
- Development of empathy, resilience and emotional awareness
- A values-based approach to behaviour and relationships
- Recognition of the dignity and uniqueness of every person

Wellbeing is promoted throughout school life and is closely linked to SPHE, pastoral care, restorative practices, positive behaviour approaches and our commitment to inclusion.

We believe that the values promoted through Catholic education — kindness, respect, compassion, justice, service and care for others — benefit all children, regardless of faith background. All pupils are invited to participate in the development of these shared human values and virtues.

Inclusion of Pupils of Different Faiths

While St. Paul's N.S. is proud of its Catholic identity and ethos, we also recognise the richness brought by pupils and families of different faith traditions and beliefs. We aim to foster an atmosphere of mutual respect, understanding and inclusion, where all children feel welcomed, valued and supported.

Ongoing Communication, Opportunities for Inclusion and Parental Choice

- Parents whose children are of other faiths or different stances for living are made aware in advance of any religious events or celebrations.
- Children are always invited but not obliged to attend all Catholic religious celebrations in the school
- Individual children, with parental consent, may wish to participate in these celebrations by reading appropriate prayers and texts, participating in art or drama, being part of the choir, playing an instrument etc
- Parents are free to absent their child from school for the duration of these events. Consideration is given to the timing of these events.
- Care is taken that the time allotted to religious education is not exceeded during times of sacramental preparation
- Notice boards and school displays are used to make pupils feel welcome
- Celebrations of the different cultures present in the school are scheduled
- Reconciliation is a feature of daily life. Staff and children are encouraged to grow in appreciation of human dignity
- School assemblies acknowledge festivals associated with the other faith traditions present in the school.
- Children of different faiths are given the opportunity to explain their beliefs to other children
- Key materials are translated as resources allow

Pre-Enrolment Information

- During pre-enrolment, issues relating to ethos and formal religious education are discussed with prospective parents
- Parents are aware that there are prayers at assemblies, and at moments during the school day. It is made clear that for children of other faiths and different stances for living that these can be times for personal reflection.
- Parents are given an understanding of the nature of religious education in the Catholic Primary School by directing them to this policy.
- Parents who have concerns about the content of the religious education programme are invited to meet with the principal/teacher/religious coordinator

Opting out

- If parents wish to have their children opt out of formal religious education the school offers staying within the classroom and engaging in an educationally appropriate activity

5.0 Faith Formation

Faith formation remains an important part of our identity as a Catholic school. However, we recognise and respect the differing beliefs and levels of faith commitment among pupils and families. In recognising the diversity of beliefs within our community, we work in partnership with families to ensure that all pupils are respected and included in a manner appropriate to their background and family wishes. Children of all faiths are welcomed and supported in our school.

We believe that:

- Diversity enriches our school community
- Exposure to different beliefs and traditions fosters understanding and respect
- Inclusive Catholic education promotes dialogue, empathy and acceptance
- Every child has the right to feel safe, valued and included

Timetabling and Teaching staff

Our school believes that religious education is a core subject in a Catholic primary school. It is the foundation of the entire educational process. This means that:

- Religious education is timetabled in each classroom for the designated time of 21/2 hours per week
- Religious education is included in all teachers Fortnightly Notes and Cúntas Míosuil.
- All teachers have a copy of the Pre-School and Primary Religious Education Curriculum for Ireland.

- The Religious Education Coordinator distributes all resources and relevant communication from the Diocesan Advisor's office.
- Opportunities for ongoing professional development are regularly offered to teachers.

Classroom Environment

- There is a Prayer Space in every classroom. This space reflects the movement of the liturgical seasons. It also contains samples of the children's work, religious symbols and God's creation.
- Every Prayer Space has a bible (Catholic Children's Bible)
- There are symbols of the Catholic faith in every classroom e.g. a Holy Water Font, religious icon or picture, cross or crucifix.

Classroom Teaching

In teaching the approved religious education programme for use in the diocese teachers are enabling children to learn the skills of moral, spiritual and religious literacy so that their understanding of their Christian faith is constantly deepened and they develop a mature and informed response to God's call to relationship. The skills of religious literacy as defined by the curriculum are understanding, communicating, participating, and added to these are the further skills of spiritual literacy and inter-religious literacy. (Curriculum page 35-37) The following will help ensure that this can be achieved

The faith formation goals in the curriculum p 134-143 support and reflect this dimension.
- Attention is given to integration of religious education across the primary school curriculum. St John Paul II gave expression to this when he stated that religious education will always seek to 'keep in touch with the pupil's knowledge and education; thus, the gospel will impregnate the mentality of the student in the field of their learning, and the harmonization of their culture will be achieved in the light of their faith
